

MORNING APPEAL

FRIDAY, JANUARY 27

ten cents an ounce silver mining began to languish and none but the richest bonanzas could be worked at any considerable profit at that price, and it was only by the working of the richest mines and the discovery of the "Broken Hill" mines in Australia, that the production was kept up equal to the demand. But the productive life of a bonanza rarely exceeds ten years; the "Comstock," one of the greatest lodes ever discovered, with its numerous and immense bonanzas has been practically exhausted in so far as large profits are concerned in thirty years and a considerable part of that time it was unproductive. During the depression in silver since it fell to one dollar and ten cents an ounce, one by one the rich mines of this country have been closed and the miners who were employed in them have been driven to "tribute" to earn a scanty subsistence for themselves and families. With depression in mining came depression in all other branches of business. We have gone from bad to worse until last year, when actual distress stared the people of the mining counties in the face. Both of the old parties had been deaf to our cries of distress and our appeals for relief; both had violated their promises in behalf of silver. The almost universal distress and the treachery of the two old parties to silver had prepared the people for revolt and when the silver standard was raised in this State, the people of the mining counties flocked to its protecting folds almost to a man. The farmers of Washoe, Douglas and Lyon counties showed by their votes their earnest sympathy with the silver cause; while in Ormsby under the most discouraging circumstances, the Silver party won a splendid victory. The silver men, now consolidated and encouraged by a most brilliant success, cherishing no bitterness towards those of their fellow citizens who are earnestly in favor of securing the remonetization of silver by all honorable means, invite those who differed with them in the last campaign to join their ranks.

"What constitutes a State?"
"Men who their duties know"
"And know their rights, and knowing dare maintain."

Aid us to raise our State to the ideal of the poet. Within the next two years, unless the Democratic party acts with greater wisdom than I believe it will, the shores of every State will be strewn with the wrecks of Democratic statesmen, who have been untrue upon the silver question. Within the next two years the congressional elections take place.

Within two years our State and County elections will be held. When the times arrives for marshaling the silver hosts of the State they will rally under this beautiful banner, the generous gift of that early and able champion of the silver party, the Silver State, and with Eureka County in the van struggling to maintain the proud position she took on the 8th day of November last they will march on to a victory more sweeping than the last. Old party fossils may predict an early dissolution of the silver party but it will not dissolve despite their predictions until aided by its noble allies in our sister Silver States, and in the east the white metal shall be restored to its constitutional place with gold as the metal money of the country and the dropping industries of our State shall be restored to their old time prosperity and mining, farming, the mechanical arts and all kindred industries shall again flourish side by side and the land shall be again be blessed with thousands of happy, prosperous homes.

On behalf of the Silver Party of Eureka county, with many thanks I accept your magnificent present. [Prolonged cheering and applause.]

The banquet was in progress when the Appeal went to press, and only the two speeches of the banner presentation are published, owing to lack of space. The other speeches will be published during the week.

The committee in charge of the affair, much to its regret, were limited in issuing tickets to the seating capacity of the dining-room. [Prolonged cheers and applause.]
